About Dwarahat

Dwarahat - Town of Temples

The peaceful town of Dwarahat is nestled in the ravishing Kumaon hills of Uttarakhand. It is perched at an elevation of 1,510 metres above sea level in the Almora district of Uttarakhand. Dwarahat literally suggests the 'Way to Heaven' in local language. It is famous for the ancient temples constructed by the Katyuri kings. The architecture of these temples is similar to that of the Gurjari School of Art.

About College

SSMMUSSS Govt. P.G. College Dwarahat was established in 1983 in Almora district with a motive of providing higher education to students of the surrounding area. It is affiliated to SSJ University, Almora. The college has its own library and Science Laboratories, Computer lab with Internet facility and all kind of modern facilities. The campus is divided into several blocks- Administrative Block, Arts Block, Science Block, Commerce Block and Library. College offers various Post Graduate and Under Graduate level courses.

AIM

A crucial challenge for humanity is to reduce the adverse effect of climate change. The consequences of climate change have several multifaceted effects which might lead to the collapse of the ecosystem and loss of biodiversity. Uttarakhand is mostly known for its rich and varied biodiversity. The Himalayan region is well known for its medicinally and commercially important herbs, some of which are now endangered due to climate change. This seminar will give some new ideas for minimizing the adverse effect of climate change.
